FINCH FAVORED.

Court Sets Aside Death Verdict and Gives New Trial.

Fd Mosely Granted Bail For Only $1,000 and Case Continued.

Charles Finch, one of the four Pembroke negroes given a death sentence, will not be hanged, unless again convicted. The circuit judge yesterday announced from the bench that he had been thinking of the Finch case and had decided not to let the verdict stand. He then set it aside and granted a new trial.

Ed Moseley, the untied member of the gang, was granted bail in the sum of $1,000.

Charles Vinson, col., charged with horse stealing, two cases, was disposed of this week. In the first case, defendant was given three years in the penitentiary and in the other two years. Vinson was indicted for stealing a horse from Mr. Buckner Campbell and one from Mr. Mabrey. He was arrested near St. Bethlehem, Tenn., and brought back here from Clarksville a few weeks ago.

Mack Johnson, col., indicted for cow stealing, was convicted and given two and a half years in the pen.

W. L. Orten, charged with the seduction of a female under 21 years of age on promise of marriage, was called Tuesday. Defendant expressed his willingness to marry the girl and after the ceremony was performed by Judge Fowler the charge against Orten was dismissed.

HOME PHONE PIPES

Are Buried Under Concrete Bedding on Ninth Street.

The Home Telephone Co's conduits from Main to Virginia streets, on Ninth, have been laid this week. At a depth of 2½ feet, the excavators struck solid rock almost the entire distance. It was finally decided to lay the square pipes with in a foot of the surface, covered with a concrete of stone and cement, which can never be removed without blasting. The Home Company is thus anchored to the earth and is "here to stay." The substantial way in which it's plant is being constructed is causing all doubts to disappear and the people are preparing to give the new company an enthusiastic welcome when it opens its office June 1st.

On June 10, the agents will be given a steamboat ride on the river and a basket picnic, after which the party will leave for Mammoth Cave, where, the following day, Saturday, will be spent. It is understood that Atlanta, St. Louis and Buffalo intend making a bid for the meeting of the association next year.

Word was received yesterday that the wife of Dr. J. W. McCord, of near Clardy, was expected to die from blood poison that had its beginning from a very slight burn on her hand.
